

This is an unofficial memorandum to the Hope Water & Light Plant.

What time of day is it? I have three electric clocks at the house, two at the office—but they all run slow.

We've had this trouble in Hope before. It's time the time was fixed—permanently.

The president of the International Apple association is a New Yorker named Victor H. M. Joseph; and Mr. Joseph says the apple business is in a bad way.

Apples, says he, face competition from harmonies, three-way cold tablets, and little pills guaranteed to cure everything. "But," he adds, "where will you find a better package of vitamins than a fresh apple?"

Whatever else he is Mr. Joseph is no slogan-maker. His vitamin message was said better by the phrase-maker of two generations ago—the guy who tossed off that immortal one: An apple a day keeps the doctor away.

I can't quite make out whether Mr. Joseph is a pessimist, an opportunist, or an apologist. He talks like a pessimist about the apple business. But the fact that he successfully breaks into the free news columns with an item for private profit shows he might be an opportunist—but secretly I am certain he is an apologist.

After all, it was the apple men who first polished up the idea that there was health in vitamins. They had a good merchandising idea, and they pushed it. They simply quit when the package goods people came along and started advertising in a big way.

It was a good merchandising idea, but did an apple a day really keep the doctor away? Not so you could notice it. Latest report is that American M. D.'s average $14,000 a year—and the radicals are talking about socialized medicine so we can have more doctors still.

What Mr. Joseph needs is a dose of optimism. He ought to be telling his public not how sick the apple business is, but: Buy an apple and keep well. I wouldn't guarantee it—but hope's better than nothing at all.

New Butane Firm Opens on South Walnut

A new revolutionary butane-propane system is now available to consumers of this area for the first time. Floyd Starnes, general manager of the Butane Gas Co., 216 South Walnut Street, announced today. Known as the Mix-o-Gas System, the product has exclusive patented construction features that make its operation a vast improvement over the conventional butane-propane tank.

Exhaustive test in the Mix-o-Gas Laboratory have shown that on a national basis the average family can cook for as little as 24¢ a day," said Starnes. "Fuel savings are possible up to 15 per cent with the Mix-o-Gas system."

The exterior of the new system does not differ to the eye from conventional butane-propane systems, but the internal construction is considerably changed. As a result of the patented construction features, a constant automatic agitation of the liquefied petroleum gases prevents stratification of the butane or propane.

"Mix-o-Gas gives the butane-propane user the first real balanced vapor blend at his or her appliance whether the tank is full or near empty," explained Starnes. "It means that the burners on the appliances can be set for efficient operation at all times with a resulting even, economical hot flame. There is no waste because of different B. T. U.-rated gases reaching the burner from stratified storage."

An invitation to see the Mix-o-Gas System in operation was extended by Starnes. He stressed the fact that free demonstrations could be arranged with visible demonstrations.

More than 15 years of practical experience and research on the part of the manufacturer of Mix-o-Gas System, stands back of the new product, according to Starnes. The manufacturer actually tested the system in more than 1,000 homes and businesses for extended periods before releasing the product to the public.

Correct setting of burners and appliances for an even balanced blend at all times prevents smoking up pots and pans," pointed out Starnes. "The Mix-o-Gas system is fully automatic in operation and has no moving parts inside to wear out over. There's no mess or dirt or fuss for the housewife. The butane-propane delivery man does the work."

"Now you can enjoy clean, safe cooking, heating, refrigeration—get plenty of hot water—enjoy the benefits of a better way of life with the new Mix-o-Gas system. Be sure to see a free demonstration before you buy." Other members of the firm are:

John Simpson will be store manager, Chester May, gas salesman, and Mrs. Emma Thomas, book-keeper.

Artificial Breeding Group Organizes Here

Some fifty persons attended a meeting on artificial insemination held in the county court room of the county courthouse Monday morning.

County Agent, Oliver Adams, introduced J. Austin Parish, manager of the Arkansas Artificial Breeding Association with Headquarters in Fayetteville, who explained in detail the artificial breeding program in Arkansas.

According to Mr. Parish, the number of cows being bred artificially each year in Arkansas is increasing in such numbers that within a very few years the yearly number should reach 30,000 head.

"In counties where dairying constitutes a large part of the farm income the artificial breeding program is a necessity and an asset," Mr. Parish said, "and the only difficulty is getting around to all the members."

Mr. Ed Thrash, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee, expressed to the group his personal interest and the interest of the entire Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Parish is very anxious for an association to be established in this area and pledged support of the state headquarters in helping. At the close of Mr. Parish's talk the group present chose the following men to serve on a temporary organizational committee:

Oscar Hodnett, Route 3, Hope; Aubrey Wilson, Route 4, Hope; Vernon Brown, Route 1, Hope; John W. Shirley, Route 3, Hope; Claude Self, Route 4, Hope; Carl Zumwalt, Route 1, Blevins Walker Chambers, Route 3, Prescott; Warren Rider, Patino.

The above committee will meet in the Hope Chamber of Commerce office Monday, August 20th, at 8 p.m. Each one of the members will have selected for that time a committee from his community to aid in reaching every farmer of that community in regards to the artificial breeding program. Details of enrollment and county wide coverage procedures will be developed at this meeting.

Any one who wishes to join the association or further information about the program may contact the county agent's office or the Hope Chamber of Commerce.

Reds Building Up During Talks, Ridgway Reveals

Tokyo, Aug. 14 — (AP) — Communist front line forces in Korea have been built up greatly in the five weeks since armistice talks started, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today.

"And it is going on every day," the United Nations commander added.

Airmen have reported as many as 2,000 trucks and other vehicles on the Red military highways in a single night.

Since cease-fire negotiations started July 10 at Kaesong, Ridgway told a news conference, "there has been a very material increase" in the communist ability to launch a new offensive.

"I have no doubt of the outcome if he launches an attack," the general said. "It does not mean, however, that we would not lose ground initially."

He emphasized "real estate" was always secondary to the prime purpose of destroying the North Korean and Chinese forces. He has repeatedly made this point since taking over command of the Eighth Army in December and his subsequent elevation to the supreme command.

Ridgway said Red commanders did not violate any agreement by reinforcing their troops during truce talks. They were not "bound to refrain from building up."

The U. N. commander agreed that the Reds could be building up their forces for defensive, as well as offensive purposes. Ridgway said both opposing armies would be in the most defensive positions under the military demarcation line proposed by his delegates at the cease-fire talks.

"The line we propose is the line now generally held by the United Nations forces," Ridgway said. "It is a defensible line."

He pointed out that its hills and ridges command Korea's traditional invasion routes.

Once a demarcation line is agreed upon, he added, the Communists could "pick any line which would give them as much defensive ability as we have."

He conceded the Reds would have to pull back somewhat, too, he added.

"We are not inflexible," the general said.

On some points he was adamant: 1. A defensible line. 2. No appeasement.

3. No consideration of the 38th parallel as a demarcation line.

"We propose," Ridgway said, "that we have a line, if and when an armistice is reached, which gives reasonable assurances that we can defend it."

"We have had the sad and bitter experience of seeing the republic of Korea forces assaulted and overwhelmed by clandestinely assembled troops coming across the parallel. It was almost the same thing on New Year's eve."

"In the light of this bitter and cold fact, how could anyone ask us to go back to the same line. And we don't intend to."

Only 149 votes cast at 1 p. m.

At 1 p. m. today a mere 149 votes had been cast in five city polling precincts. This compares to 404 up to the same period in the July 31, preferential primary. Nearly 1500 votes were balloted in the last election.

Only two aldermen posts are on today's ballot—Jessie Brown and W. B. Mason in Ward 3, Webb Laseter Jr. and Howard Byers.

Plan to Pave Road From Kirby to Daisy

Little Rock, Aug. 14 — (AP) — Paving of an access road to the northern section of the Narrows lake in Pike county is on the agenda of the state highway department and the project may be ready for the letting of a contract in 60 days.

Highway department chief Engineer Alf Johnson said plans are under way to surface that section of highway 70 from Kirby to Daisy, a distance of about seven miles, the road touching the northern border of the new western Arkansas lake.

The Vicksburg district, U. S. engineers, previously had provided a surfaced access road from Murfreesboro to the dam site.

Surface of the 2 1/2 mile stretch on highway 70 from Kirby to Daisy would have only about a 20-mile stretch unpaved on that route.

Large Melons Being Shipped Over Nation

Large Hempstead watermelons, 100 pounds and over, are being shipped out daily.

Arnold Middlebrooks, who specializes in growing the whoppers, shipped two 100-pounders today to D. T. Pike of Crockett, Texas and Frank King is shipping a couple to Kansas City.

The melon harvest, now in its peak, is expected to be pretty well over by September 1. This year's crop has been a little better than average for small melons and about average for big melons, several growers said.

Last year's largest melon, grown by Mr. Middlebrooks, weighed 143 pounds. He indicated today that a 125-pounder would probably be the largest this season.

Little Rock, Aug. 14 — (AP) — The crop reporting service predicted today that Arkansas will have a bumper crop of watermelons this year.

The service said indicated production was 1,254,000 melons. That would be 10 per cent above last year's production and about 20 per cent above the 1940-49 average.

The 1951 cantaloupe crop was placed at 90,000 jumbo crates (70 pounds each), about six per cent less than last year's production. The predictions were based on conditions as of Aug. 1.

House Approves Largest Peace Military Budget

Washington, Aug. 14 — (AP) — The house today authorized the largest single military construction program ever presented to congress in war or peace. It calls for spending $5,768,000,000.

The major portion of the proposed work, $3,400,000,000, is allotted to the air force and will be used to strengthen its bases in this country, in the territories and overseas.

The sum of $1,368,025,000 is earmarked for army construction and $706,207,000 for the navy. In addition, there is about $133,766,000 for joint projects and for construction of recreational and welfare facilities at bases.

The bill simply authorizes the program. Actual funds will have to be supplied later. The military services are also in a $4,000,000,000 to get the work under way.

This is in addition to the $56,000,000,000 military appropriations measure for 1952 passed by the house last week.

The house passed the authorization measure after rejecting an amendment to strike out of the bill the $19,019,000 project for expansion of the Grandview, Mo., air base in President Truman's home county.

"That action came on a voice vote," the speaker said.

Rep. Gross (R-Ia.) had sought to knock out the Grandview project on the grounds that it was an "extravagance." He contended the air force could use a nearby field at Sedalia, Mo.

the office of the County Supervisor of Schools on Saturday morning, August 11th, and register.

Each boy who sells two adult tickets for the game next Monday night will be given a free pass to the game. The Lions Club want to determine the number of boys who are interested in Junior Baseball.

The season is almost over, but registration will enable the club to make early plans for next spring.

Probable lineup for the local Lions will be Hoyt Cummings, Vernon Buchanan, Joe Crane, James Shackleford, Charles Hesterly, Harold Hendrix, Carl Mitchell, Eddie Danmer, Dewey Stripling.

Experts Are Beating Gums on Election

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 13 — (AP) — The 1952 presidential election still is more than a year away. But the political experts already are beating their gums about events ahead.

But they're being pretty cagey about it — they have to — because the future is uncertain. As it stands now, the picture can be summed up briefly:

Republicans — general Eisenhower and Senator Taft of Ohio are the two most prominently mentioned for the Republican ticket.

Democrats — President Truman is running for a second term as he can. No one can predict at the moment what Eisenhower will do; he may want no part after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bemis.

J. H. Bemis, Jim Bemis and Norwood Smith of Magnolia accompanied Mrs. Bobby Duke and son Reed who have been guests in the Bemis home for several weeks to Dallas Thursday. Mrs. Bemis will visit in Ft. Worth and Houston before returning to her home in Odessa, Texas.

Mrs. Mervin Harper has returned to her home on Roanoke, Ala., after having been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Dudley Gordon and family. Mrs. John Sledge remained for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Morrow, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Woodall of Hope, are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. H. B. Lloyd and family in Carboro, North Carolina.

John and James Burgess visited in the W. D. Burke home in MeNeil last week.

Joe Burgess visited Ronnie Barksdale while his mother, Mrs. Madge Burgess, attended the rural health meeting in Little Rock Friday and Saturday.

Mike and David Smith have returned to their home in Magnolia.

of it; or he may think he's more needed in uniform because of a war or because he thinks his job of rebuilding Europe's defenses isn't finished.

Democrats — President Truman has given no hint of whether he'll seek re-election. Apparently awaiting his decision, most of his fellow Democrats have remained pretty mum on any other choice of their own, if any.

They don't seem to have a wide choice. Given most mention as possible Democratic candidates are these three: Senator Douglas of Illinois; and the Supreme court's Chief Justice Vinson and Associate Justice Douglas.

The Supreme court is not a place for developing political attractiveness and the two Justices don't have much popular backing, and as for Senator Douglas—the President is reported to dislike him intensely.

The experts ridicule any suggestion that if Mr. Truman doesn't run he might, if he wanted to, be able to persuade Eisenhower to take the Democratic nomination.

Republican backers of the general claim to know he is a Republican and would run only on the Republican ticket. Only last week the President said he doesn't think the general is a candidate for the Democratic nomination although that doesn't rule out the chance he might try to persuade the general to be the candidate.

If Eisenhower ran as a Democrat a lot of Republicans backing him now as their candidate would be badly embarrassed. They couldn't very well campaign against him later.

From what he's said in the past, Eisenhower doesn't seem very close to Mr. Truman's thinking on domestic affairs. The President has urged much wider economic security for everyone, for instance through a national medical health program.

While he was still active as president of Columbia university Eisenhower once said people looking for security could find it in jail, a remark which brought him criticism, even from his own students at Columbia.

But the general is much closer to the President's views on foreign affairs than he is to Senator Taft's. The general and the President both want strong military alliance with Europe, backed up by a lot of American aid.

Taft, from away back, hasn't been very warm about close ties with Europe as a few items from his record will show:

He was against lend-lease before we got into World War II although he supported it after we did; he was against sending 50 destroyers to Britain even when she was backed by the wall by Nazi Germany; he opposed the legislation which made us an active part of the United Nations; and he opposed the Atlantic pact which put us into the present alliance with Europe as part of which Eisenhower is now in Europe trying to build up Western defenses.

Still, the experts don't seem to think the following could happen, even though anything seems possible in politics:

If Mr. Truman doesn't run and Taft clinches the Republican nomination, Eisenhower might accept the Democratic nomination because he differs so much from Taft on foreign affairs.

Washington, Aug. 13 — (AP) — The defense department today identified 83 additional U. S. casualties in Korean fighting.

List No. 375 contained the name of 18 killed, 46 wounded, 11 injured and eight missing in action.

This is an unofficial memorandum to the Hope Water & Light Plant:
What time of day is it?
I have three electric clocks at the house, two at the office—but they all run slow.
We've had this trouble in Hope before. It's time the time was fixed—permanently.

The president of the International Apple association is a New Yorker named Victor H. M. Joseph; and Mr. Joseph says the apple business is in a bad way.

Apples, says he, face competition from oranges, three-way cold tablets, and little pills guaranteed to cure everything. "But," he adds, "where will you find a better package of vitamins than a fresh apple?"

Whatever else he is Mr. Joseph is no slogan-maker. His vitamin message was said better by the phrase-maker of two generations ago—the guy who tossed off the immortal one: An apple a day keeps the doctor away.

I can't do much out whether Mr. Joseph is a pessimist, an opportunist, or an apologist. He talks like a pessimist about the apple business. But the fact that he successfully breaks into the free news columns with an item for private profit shows he might be an opportunist—but secretly I am certain he is an apologist.

After all, it was the apple men who first polished up the idea that there was health in vitamins. They had a good merchandising idea, and they pushed it. They simply quit when the package goods people came along and started advertising in a big way.

It was a good merchandising idea, but did an apple a day really keep the doctor away? Not so you could notice it. Latest report is that American M. D.'s average $11,000 a year—and the radicals are talking about socialized medicine so we can have more doctors still.

What Mr. Joseph needs is a dose of optimism. He ought to be telling his public not how sick the apple business is, but: Buy an apple and keep well. I wouldn't guarantee it—but hope's better than nothing at all.

New Butane Firm Opens on South Walnut

A new revolutionary butane-propane system is now available to consumers of this area for the first time. Floyd Starnes, general manager of the Butane Gas Co., 216 South Walnut Street, announced today. Known as the Mix-o-Gas System, the product has exclusive patented construction features that make its operation a vast improvement over the conventional butane-propane tank.

"Extensive test in the Mix-o-Gas Homeowners Laboratory have shown that on a national basis the average family can cook for as little as 2 1/2¢ a day," said Starnes. "Fuel savings are possible up to 15 per cent with the Mix-o-Gas system."

The exterior of the new system does not differ to the eye from conventional butane-propane systems, but the internal construction is considerably changed. As a result of the patented construction features, a constant automatic agitation of the liquefied petroleum gases prevents stratification of the butane or propane.

"Mix-o-Gas gives the butane-propane user the first real balanced vapor blend at his or her appliance whether the tank is full or nearly empty," explained Starnes. "It means that the burners on the appliance can be set for efficient operation at all times with a resulting even, economical hot flame, and there is no waste because of different B. T. U.-rated gases reaching the burner from stratified storage."

An invitation to see the Mix-o-Gas System in operation was extended by Starnes. He stressed the fact that free demonstrations could be arranged with visible demonstrations.

More than 15 years of practical experience and research on the part of the manufacturers of Mix-o-Gas System, stands back of the new product, according to Starnes. The manufacturer actually tested the system in more than 1,000 homes and businesses for extended periods before releasing the product to the public.

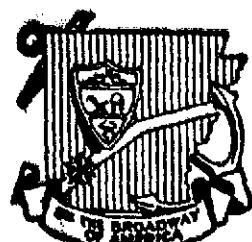

Correct setting of burners and appliances for an even, balanced blend at all times prevents smoking up pots and pans," pointed out Starnes. "The Mix-o-Gas system is fully automatic in operation and has no moving parts inside to wear out over. There's no mess or dirt or fuss for the housewife. The butane-propane delivery man does the work."

"Now you can enjoy clean, safe cooking, heating, refrigeration—get plenty of hot water—enjoy the benefits of a better way of life with the new Mix-o-Gas system. Be sure to see a free demonstration before you buy." Other members of the firm are:

Artificial Breeding Group Organizes Here

Some fifty persons attended a meeting on artificial insemination held in the county court room of the county courthouse Monday morning.

County Agent, Oliver Adams, introduced J. Austin Parish, manager of the Arkansas Artificial Breeding Association with Headquarters in Fayetteville, who explained in detail the artificial breeding program in Arkansas.

According to Mr. Parish, the number of cows being bred artificially each year in Arkansas is increasing in such numbers that within a very few years the yearly number should reach 30,000 head.

"In counties where dairying constitutes a large part of the farm income the artificial breeding program is a necessity and an asset," Mr. Parish said, "and the only difficulty is getting around to all the members."

Mr. Ed Thrash, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Committee, expressed to the group his personal interest and the interest of the entire Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Parish is very anxious for an association to be established in this area and pledged support of the state headquarters in helping. At the close of Mr. Parish's talk the group present chose the following organizational committee:

Oscar Hodnett, Route 3, Hope; Aubrey Wilson, Route 4, Hope; Vernon Brown, Route 1, Hope; John W. Shirley, Route 3, Hope; Claude Self, Route 4, Hope; Carl Zumwalt, Route 1, Blevins Walker Chambers, Route 3, Prescott; Warren Rider, Palmo 3.

The above committee will meet in the Hope Chamber of Commerce office Monday, August 20th, at 8 p.m. Each one of the members will have selected for that time a committee from his community to aid in reaching every farmer of that community in regards to the artificial breeding program. Details of enrollment and county wide coverage procedures will be developed at this meeting.

Any one who wishes to join the association or further information about the program may contact the county agent's office or the Hope Chamber of Commerce.

Reds Building Up During Talks, Ridgway Reveals

Tokyo, Aug. 14 — (AP) — Communist front line forces in Korea have been built up greatly in the five weeks since armistice talks started, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today.

"And it is going on every day," the United Nations commander added.

Airmen have reported as many as 2,000 trucks and other vehicles on the Red military highways in a single night.

Since cease-fire negotiations started July 10 at Kaesong, Ridgway told a news conference, "there has been a very material increase" in the communist ability to launch a new offensive.

"I have no doubt of the outcome if he launches an attack," the general said. "It does not mean, however, that we would not lose ground initially."

He emphasized "real estate" was always secondary to the prime purpose of destroying the North Korean and Chinese forces. He has repeatedly made this point since taking over command of the Eighth Army in December and his subsequent elevation to the supreme command.

Ridgway said Red commanders did not violate any agreement by reinforcing their troops during truce talks. They were not "bound to refrain from building up."

The U. N. commander agreed that the Reds could be building up their forces for defensive, as well as offensive purposes.

Ridgway said both opposing armies would be in the most defensive positions under the military demarcation line proposed by his delegates at the cease-fire talks.

"The line we propose is the line now generally held by the United Nations for coes," Ridgway said. "It is a defensible line."

He pointed out that his troops and ridges command Korea's traditional invasion routes.

Once a demarcation line is agreed upon, he added, the Communists could "pick any line which would give them as much defensive ability as we have."

He conceded the Reds would have to pull back somewhat, too, he added.

"We are not inflexible," the general said.

On some points he was adamant:

1. A defensible line.

2. No appeasement.

3. No consideration of the 38th parallel as a demarcation line.

"We propose," Ridgway said, "that we have a line, if and when an armistice is reached, which gives reasonable assurances that we can defend it."

"We have had the sad and bitter experience of seeing the republic of Korea forces assaulted and overwhelmed by clandestinely assembled troops coming across the parallel. It was almost the same thing on New Year's eve."

"In the light of this bitter and cold fact, how could anyone ask us to go back to the same line. And we don't intend to."

Plan to Pave Road From Kirby to Daisy

Little Rock, Aug. 14 — (AP) — Paving of an access road to the northern section of the Narrows lake in Pike county is on the agenda of the state highway department and the project may be ready for the letting of a contract in 60 days.

Highway department chief Engineer Al Johnson said plans are underway to surface that section of highway 70 from Kirby to Daisy, a distance of about seven miles, the road touching the northern border of the new western Arkansas lake.

The Vicksburg district, U. S. engineers, previously had provided a surfaced access road from Murfreesboro to the dam site.

Surface of the seven-mile stretch on highway 70 from Kirby to Daisy would leave only about a 20-mile stretch unpaved on that route.

The Big Minnesota Iron Ore Deposits, Discovered in 1892, Have Already Passed Peak

By HAL BOYLE

Hibbing, Minn., (AP) — Back in 1892 a lumber camp routeabout named Pete was digging a well near here.

He complained that after digging through six feet of sticky red clay his shovel hit a substance easier to spade through but was "heavy as iron."

Jim Kennedy, another lumberman, heard him and pondered the remark. He sent for Frank Hibbing, a mining man. Hibbing went into the well, sifted the heavy earth and said:

"Yes, boys. Iron for sure and it seems to be rich."

That was the birth of the world's largest iron mine in the heart of the great Mesabi range, for half a century a wellspring of America's industrial might.

Today the spade that routed about Pete held has been replaced by huge electric shovels that take up ten tons at a single bite. The well Pete started has grown into a vast pit covering 1,450 acres. It is almost 500 feet deep, up to 53333 feet wide, and three-and-one-half miles long.

It is a great manmade Grand Canyon of fantastic colors, beautiful layers of red, yellow, purple and black and of fantastic wealth.

Since stripping began here in 1895 the "big hole" has yielded 496,558,000 tons of ore averaging 50 to 62 per cent iron. Today it is worth about $7.50 a ton. But at an average price of $3 a ton over the years the tremendous pit's out-

Large Melons Being Shipped Over Nation

Large Hempstead watermelons, 100 pounds and over, are being shipped out daily.

Arnold Middlebrooks, who specializes in growing the whoppers, shipped two 100-pounders today to D. T. Pike of Crockett, Texas and Frank King is shipping a couple to Kansas City.

The melon harvest, now in its peak, is expected to be pretty well over by September 1. This year's crop has been a little better than average for small melons and a good average for big melons, several growers said.

Last year's largest melon, grown by Mr. Middlebrooks, weighed 43 pounds. He indicated today that a 125-pounder would probably be the largest this season.

Little Rock, Aug. 14 — (AP) — The crop reporting service predicted today that Arkansas will have a bumper crop of watermelons this year.

The service said indicated production was 1,254,900 melons. That would be 10 per cent above last year's production and about 20 per cent above the 1910-49 average.

The 1951 cantaloupe crop was placed at 80,000 jumbo crates (70 pounds each), about six per cent less than last year's production. The predictions were based on conditions as of Aug. 1.

Reserved, Box Seats on Sale at High School

Joe Amour, Principal of Hope High School, announces today that box seats and reserved seats will go on sale Tuesday, August 14.

All football fans who had boxes and those who had reserved seats last year will be given opportunity to purchase the same box and reserved seats again this year. The price of box seats will be $10. Each box will accommodate eight people. Reserved seats will be $1.50 each for the season.

Eleven rows of seats in the stand in front of the press box will be reserved. The middle section on the east side will also be reserved for out-of-town guests; these will be sold on a per-game basis. Box seats on the east side of the field were opened last year to take care of those who desired them. A few of these are available this year.

Hope will play 6 home games this season, and probably 7. The cost of box seats and reserved seats does not include admission to the games. You may reserve box seats and reserved seats in the stands by coming to the high school office or calling in your reservation.

The price of home games this year will be—Adults $1.00, all tax included; Students 40¢, all tax included. For additional information, call the high school office, telephone number 451.

Beginning September 1, all box seats and reserved seats that have not been purchased by last year holders will be sold to other fans. Last year holders are asked to be prompt in this matter. A waiting list is being made and all unsold seats will be sold beginning September 1.

House Approves Largest Peace Military Budget

Washington, Aug. 14 — (AP) — The house today authorized the largest single military construction program ever presented to congress in war or peace. It calls for spending $5,768,000,000.

The major portion of the proposed work, $5,768,000,000. The major portion of the proposed work $4,400,000,000 is allotted to the air force and will be used to strengthen its bases in this country, in the territories and overseas.

The sum of $1,368,025,000 is earmarked for army construction and $700,207,000 for the navy. In addition, there is about $133,700,000 for joint projects and for construction of recreational and welfare facilities at bases.

The bill simply authorizes the program. Actual funds will have to be supplied later. The military services are also to get the work under way.

This is in addition to the $50,000,000,000 military appropriations measure for 1952 passed by the house last week.

The house passed the authorization measure after rejecting an amendment to strike out of the bill an $10,010,000 project for expansion of the Grandview, Mo., air base in President Truman's home county. That action came on a voice vote.

Rep. Gross (R-Ia.) had sought to knock out the Grandview project on the grounds that it was an "extravagance." He contended the air force could use a nearby field at Sedalia, Mo.

Gross' move had held up final action on the legislation.

Blevins Farmer Converting to Pasture

Pasture improvement pays in more ways than one, according to S. E. Loe of the Blevins community.

Mr. Loe operates a 1400 acre cotton and stock farm containing about 500 acres of crop and pastureland. However, he is turning from row crops to pasture as fast as possible.

Mr. Loe says that he has found that good pasture and livestock is a sure money crop. In the old days, he said, farmers were of the opinion that cotton or truck crops were the only money crops that could be successfully grown in Hempstead County.

About 250 acres of the approximately 500 acres in cultivation on the Loe farm is now devoted to pasture, much of which is improved. The remainder is being improved as fast as possible, Mr. Loe says.

Mr. Loe has demonstrated the old axiom, "Action speaks louder than words," by putting a good pasture program into effect on his farm. According to Cecil F. Guthrie, County Administrator, Office of the Production and Marketing Administration of Hempstead County, Mr. Loe has established or improved 25 pasture acres of pasture by seeding lespedeza, sowed 15 acres of bermuda grass and seeded 50 pounds of fescue during the spring of 1951.

In addition, he applied 7300 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate, 3000 pounds of 50 per cent potash and 30 tons of ground agricultural limestone. Mr. Loe received assistance for all these conservation practices through the Production and Marketing Administration.

Mr. Loe normally runs from 80 to 100 head of cattle on his pastures during the year. In his praise for the value of fertilizing pastures, he said, "I treated approximately 40 acres of my more than 200 acres of pasture in the spring of 1951 with superphosphate and potash and the livestock has a tendency to graze only on the part treated."

They refuse to graze the untreated portion as they do the fertilized part of the pasture." He is now applying lime to an additional 40 acres which he intends to convert to a permanent pasture.

Mr. Loe says that the additional weight and growth gained by his livestock on treated pastures will more than pay the cost of fertilizing, to say nothing of the increased number of head that an improved pasture will carry throughout the year.

Feed, Not Gulp Market, Cotton Farmers Advised

Washington, Aug. 14 — (AP) — The agriculture department will appeal to cotton farmers to "feed the market" rather than "gulp" it as a means of keeping prices of this year's big cotton crop from dropping any lower.

The prospect of a crop of more than 17,000,000 bales has contributed to a cotton price decline of nearly 12 cents a pound since the fiber reached 45 cents last winter. This drop has stirred up southern demand for government action to stabilize prices.

By feeding the market, officials mean farm sales spread over the next 12 months rather than sale of the entire crop during the harvesting season.

The department is supplying field forces in cotton-growing states with detailed information on how farmers might work together to prevent dumping of the entire crop on the market in a short period.

It is suggesting that each farmer store a part of his crop under government price support, leaving which average close to 31 cents a pound. The effect of such action, officials explain, would be to reduce market supplies at harvest time.

Officials reason that it is only a part of the crop is available for the market at any one time, the price will be higher than if all of it were available.

To get supplies stored under government loans, users would have to offer more than the loan value. Otherwise, there would be no incentive to take it out from under loan.

Officials believe that if growers will store at least 5,000,000 bales of this year's crop under government loans, prices will average around 31 cents a pound. That is about 10 cents a pound more than the current price for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy the products.

The government is committed to support of prices at 50 cents a pound of parity. Some southern cotton leaders are demanding that the support price be raised to 40 cents. They argue that farmers are entitled to such a price because cotton was selling for more than that when the government appealed for a big crop to prevent a serious shortage.

But no change in the support price will be made, officials explain, until farmers have been told at planting time what the support price would be.

The department also will try to help strengthen cotton prices by getting foreign aid agencies to make their cotton export commitments early. Restrictions on cotton exports were relaxed recently.

Purchases for export during the harvest season would tend to strengthen prices at a time when farmers still had their crop in hand. Purchases would tend to strengthen prices after the harvest when farmers had sold much of their crop.

Mr. Loe says that he has found that good pasture and livestock is a sure money crop. In the old days, he said, farmers were of the opinion that cotton or truck crops were the only money crops that could be successfully grown in Hempstead County.

About 250 acres of the approximately 500 acres in cultivation on the Loe farm is now devoted to pasture, much of which is improved. The remainder is being improved as fast as possible, Mr. Loe says.

In addition, he applied 7300 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate, 3000 pounds of 50 per cent potash and 30 tons of ground agricultural limestone. Mr. Loe received assistance for all these conservation practices through the Production and Marketing Administration.

Mr. Loe normally runs from 80 to 100 head of cattle on his pastures during the year. In his praise for the value of fertilizing pastures, he said, "I treated approximately 40 acres of my more than 200 acres of pasture in the spring of 1951 with superphosphate and potash and the livestock has a tendency to graze only on the part treated."

They refuse to graze the untreated portion as they do the fertilized part of the pasture." He is now applying lime to an additional 40 acres which he intends to convert to a permanent pasture.

Mr. Loe says that the additional weight and growth gained by his livestock on treated pastures will more than pay the cost of fertilizing, to say nothing of the increased number of head that an improved pasture will carry throughout the year.

Mr. Loe says that he has found that good pasture and livestock is a sure money crop. In the old days, he said, farmers were of the opinion that cotton or truck crops were the only money crops that could be successfully grown in Hempstead County.

Probers of MacArthur Deal Disagree

Washington, Aug. 13 — (AP)—Senators who spent almost two months investigating the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur have apparently come to an abrupt parting of the way over the need of a report on their findings.

Yesterday Senator Cain (R-Wash.) said flatly that he and seven other members of the two inquiry committees, armed services and foreign relations have already signed a report.

But on Saturday Senator Russell (D-Ga.), who ran the 2,000,000 word hearings, repeated what he has said before—that he thinks no report is needed.

However, Russell told a report or he would call a meeting of the joint committee soon to make a final decision.

Cain, appearing on an NBC television show, did not identify the senators who he said he joined him in his report.

It was learned early last month that Cain was working on a preliminary report blasting President Truman for firing the Far East commander and declaring that MacArthur's Korean war program was "the only positive program" for winning the war.

Cain said then he was representing "six or seven" Republicans.

But yesterday all Cain would say is that the report outlines the signers' views as to mistakes made in the Far East.

He said the eight would submit it to the joint committee for approval but would make it public whether approved or not.

The whole question of what to do with the voluminous testimony taken from MacArthur, Secretary of Defense Marshall, Secretary of State Acheson, and 10 other witnesses on Korean war policy has been very much in the background since a cease-fire became a possibility.

Politics Out West Deal Twin Blows

Washington, Aug. 13 — (AP)—Political weather vane swinging toward 1952 have registered a couple of sizeable blows from out of the West.

California's Democratic organization aturday endorsed President Truman for reelection.

Senator Thye (R-Minn.) predicted today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will sweep Minnesota's "open" presidential primary next spring, if his name is entered.

And Senator Cain (R-Wash.) said that if Taft (R-Ohio) would be elected president if he got the Republican nomination, Cain, interviewed on a television program, declined to say, however, whether Taft was his personal choice.

The California move to back Mr. Truman was made by the executive committee of the Democratic state central committee which noted in a resolution that state election codes give it the power to become a state campaign committee working for election of the party's presidential candidate.

Mr. Truman hasn't said yet whether he will be a candidate. The Minnesota test—next March 18—is the first in which a candidate can be entered without his formal consent. Thye said he will not be surprised if Eisenhower is represented in some way in the bidding for Republican delegates.

If Eisenhower isn't publicly available at the time, this possibly might come through a maneuver by Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor and now president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Stassen could say he was seeking the state delegation in order to deliver it to the general if the latter becomes available.

Convict Admits Stealing $450

Warren, Aug. 13 — (AP)—heriff Roy Green said that Wallace Murray, about 25, described as a paroled convict, related today that he stole $450 from the safe of the Pastime theater here last Thursday night. The sheriff said $173 of the money was recovered.

Green said Murray implicated a part-time employee of the theater, but that the latter denied any knowledge of the burglary.

Both men were held for investigation. Green said Murray was paroled several months ago from a 19-year sentence for car theft. He was picked up in Monticello and returned here in connection with the theater burglary.

A similar burglary took place at the theater last December.

Large Gas Well Is Brought in

Fort Smith, Aug. 14 — (AP)—A natural gas well that may prove to be the biggest producer in Arkansas been brought in near here in a Western Arkansas field.

The Arkansas-Oklahoma Co., brought in the well in a previously unexplored section of the Cecil field on highway 96 between highway 22 and the Arkansas river.

An actual production estimate on the new well has not been made, but unofficial reports put its output as larger than of a well in the Alma field, which produced 25 million feet to set an Arkansas record.

Christian Women's Fellowship Has Meeting

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met Monday afternoon at 3 in the Church Parlor with Mrs. E. W. Graham, president, presiding. The meeting was opened with a song, "Onward Christian Soldiers," and then followed by the Lord's Prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting and the treasurer's report was read and approved. Yearbooks were issued to each one present.

The Executive Committee recommended three goals to be reached this year. First, that the women plan for and work for the redecoration of the sanctuary. The president appointed a committee composed of Mrs. Mike Kelly, chairman, Mrs. Malcolm Porterfield, and Mrs. McRae Cox, to obtain estimates on this project. The second recommendation was that the quarterly missionary giving to the United Christian Missionary Society be increased this year. Third, that the group will strive for an increased membership. All recommendations were voted on and carried.

Reports were given by Mrs. Wm. P. Hardegreer, Mrs. B. L. Reitzel, and Mrs. Oliver Adams on the recent women's workshop meeting that was held in Hot Springs. The aims and goals were set forth on the three departments of the Christian Women's Fellowship on worship study and service.

For the program Mrs. Carl Smith gave an inspirational devotional on "Christians Who Learn." Mrs. Ted Jones taught the second lesson in the study course "Doctrine and Thought of the Disciples of Christ."

Circle No. 2 was awarded the president's dollar for the greatest number of members present. The meeting was closed with the missionary benediction.

The pit was begun by Irishmen like Tommy Swedes and Cornishmen called "Cousin Jacks." Then other workers flooded in from south and central Europe. Now more than 30 nationalities work peacefully together in this melting pot capital of the iron ore industry.

The ore is so valuable that when deposits were found beneath old Hibbing the entire town was moved two miles away so the shovels might paw at its former site.

Some day, of course, the deep rifts of ore will be gone forever. A visitor once asked a veteran mining man what would be done with the big hole then.

"Well," he said, grinning, "We can always plant it with grass, turn sheep loose in it, and raise steel wool."

Bad News for Baked Southwest

By The Associated Press
The baked Southwest had the bad news from the weatherman again today — no relief in sight. The blistering sun, which shot temperatures past 100 in much of Texas yesterday, continued to beat down.

Fort Worth and Bryan had 105 yesterday. Dallas and Waco reported 104. An Associated Press survey showed at least 24 deaths attributed to the long heat wave.

In Dallas, about 1,500 Bell telephone company operators and plant workers walked off their jobs, demanding air conditioning.

The east also has been sizzling, with 90 reported in New York yesterday. However, forecasters predicted relief in that area, probably by tonight if not sooner.

Meanwhile cool weather continued to prevail today in the great lakes region, upper Mississippi valley and northern Great Plains.

Murry advised Lonoke County Assessor E. Weeks that equalization boards do not have to follow any general formula fixed by the assessor in raising or lowering assessments. Nor is there any law limiting the number of assessments which may be changed by a board, the opinion added.

In a second opinion Murry said assessors if they wish have authority to make adjustments in assessments, as recommended by citizens' committees, and that they do not have to wait for Equalization boards to act.

This opinion went to M. G. Young member of the Carlisle school board.

DOROTHY DIX

House Divided

Dear Dorothy Dix: Some time ago my married sister had a misunderstanding with my mother that began with a small quarrel and has grown into heartaches for ever since. My sister has two lovely daughters, whom my mother has never seen. Mother is nearly 55 and has always had people do as she wants; she does not like to be crossed. She is a kind generous person as long as people do things her way. Father is the silent type, so whatever mother says goes.

My sister lives in the same town as we do, and I love her very much, but mother says if I visit her I am a disloyal daughter. I am even forbidden to go to parties or small gatherings which my sister may attend. I am not afraid of my mother but if I don't do as she says there is always an argument. Am I wrong in loving my sister and my mother both, and trying to make mother understand that I can love both?

P. C.
Answer: Your letter betrays your own words. You say you're not afraid of your mother—you're scared stiff of her and so, apparently, is everyone else within sound of her voice except your sister! If your mother can deny her own child because of a silly quarrel, what is she going to do to your own life if you ever decide to set out on your own?

Don't Be Cowed
I don't like to countenance filial disobedience but if your mother is going to win her way in the matter of you seeing your sister, you will definitely establish the pattern of a coward daughter. You don't state your age, and that of course has a bearing on the case. If you are under age, you have no choice but to go your mother's way, but if you have reached your majority, you'd better show a little independence before it's too late.

Every time I blast away at dominating mothers—or mother-in-laws—I get letters from perfectly normal mothers who accuse me of bias against all maternal parents. Nothing could be further from the truth, which is that I hold the entire estate of motherhood including mothers-in-law in such high esteem that I am riled to white heat by women who desecrate the title by rending families asunder instead of abiding by their God-given right of molding them together. Certainly no mother worthy of the name would estrange herself from a daughter and grandchildren over a silly quarrel—or even over a more serious one. She'd do everything she could to mend the rift and maintain a united family.

Dear Miss Dix: I am planning to be married in September. My fiancé has only two weeks vacation for our honeymoon, and he intends to use a week of it to make an extended trip in August with a friend through Alabama and Florida, including a three-day cruise to Havana. He claims he is tired and would like to rest and fish on this trip. It is beyond me to understand a desire for rest of this kind on the part of a man who is supposed to be madly in love. What is your opinion?

A. C.
Answer: To quote Hamlet, "There are more things in Heaven and earth, than our philosophy." But the sight of a man who would rather fish than go on a honeymoon is something new. I suppose any piscators among my readers will rise up in arms against, but it is still revolutionary idea.

Perhaps this is your betrothed's idea of a "last fling" a final adieu to carefree youth: the swan song of a bachelor. Whatever the reason, you have no choice but to let him go and get it out of his system. I hope you're sure of his devotion otherwise.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband works nights and I work days so I only have a short time with him. On his days off he goes out and stays until 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning. I try to make everything as nice as possible for him at home. We are buying a car together and he lets anyone take it.

Plans: Scattered thundershowers fell last night over most of the Missouri valley, but elsewhere in the nation the weather generally was fair.

'Vandenberg' Village Dedicated

St. Clemens, Mich., Aug. 14 (AP) — "Vandenberg village," projected $4,500,000 servicemen's home, was dedicated yesterday. The ceremony was kept in the family.

Honors were done by Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief of staff and nephew of the famed late U.S. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg.

The Selfridge field housing project to accommodate the families of 311 army fliers, is named after the senator.

Gen. Vandenberg ushered T-Sgt. Allen J. Bradley of Oklahoma City and his family into the new apartment as its first occupants.

Sgt. Allen and his family arrived at Selfridge field recently after a three year stay at Anchorage, Alaska.

Rent Control to Help Servicemen

Hot Springs, Aug. 14 (AP) — Military personnel and defense workers will get a "fair shake" at housing under new rent control regulations, says a official of the office of rent stabilization.

Ed Dupree, general counsel for the ORS, spoke at a staff conference of the agency here yesterday.

Dupree, a native of Blue Bluff, Ark., told the meeting of ORS national officers, regional attorneys, compliance officers and litigation section officers that rent advisory boards have been a big help in bringing "landlord and tenant together on friendly terms."

L. R. School Official Is Arrested

Little Rock, Aug. 14 —(AP)—The man who has kept the payroll records of maintenance personnel of Little Rock schools for the past 10 years is accused of stealing some $2,000 from the district.

Howell J. Stacka, supervisor of buildings and grounds for the schools, yesterday was charged in an information filed by Pulaski County Judge Tom Donlin on six counts of forgery and uttering. Stacka is accused of working an audit-proof scheme to pad the payroll.

School payroll records for an eight-month period of 1950 were subpoenaed and checked by Donlin's office. The prosecutor said there were 34 checks for varying amounts which he believed forged. He used only six to back up his charges. Donlin estimated the total amount of the checks at $2,000.

Donlin said Stacka, who is free on $5,000 bond, operated this plan like this:

He would make false entries in the time book, crediting employees with more work than they actually performed. When the pay checks were returned to him for distribution, he would withdraw the allowed padded checks. He then forged the payee's name to the checkbook and counterfeited or altered the check to cash it.

Rail Accidents Claim Two Lives

By The Associated Press
Two persons were killed in Arkansas Monday, and both died of railroad accidents.

A section hand on the Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri (formerly Missouri and Arkansas) railroad was killed when a south-bound train near the Carroll county line of Grandview.

He was Louis Wood, 40, of Grandview. Wood and two other men, both of whom were injured, were on the push car when it jumped the track and overturned. Wood was crushed beneath the car.

A 74-year-old Missouri Pacific section foreman was injured fatally at Oliver, 12 miles northeast of McGee, when his motor "hooper" and a locomotive collided.

It was A. J. Camp of McGee.

U. S. Accused of Using Poison Gas

Moscow, Aug. 14 —(AP)—Moscow newspapers and radio today blamed the Americans for dropping poison gas bombs in Korea.

The reports said a protest has been sent to the United Nations. They claimed the bombs were dropped on August 7 and that deaths have resulted from chemical poisoning.

Feller Racks Up No. 19 for Indians

Cleveland, Aug. 14 —(AP)—Just one game short of repeating the Chicago winners after an absence of three years, pitcher Bob Feller says he's "out to win a lot more than one, if Cleveland is to keep the pennant."

And Bob thinks they will, but he thinks it unbecavely: "No good reason why we shouldn't."

Last night 40,200 fans turned out for "Bob Feller night," and Bob labored mightily not to disappoint them. He didn't beat the Detroit Tigers 2-1, but he wasn't very proud of his seven-hit triumph.

"I stole that one, I didn't win it," he said afterward.

Feller perhaps was being overly modest — one of his traits for it was just another of many ball games the Cleveland Indians have won recently by nerve-wracking struggle.

And it was an important victory — for Feller and for the team.

It kept Bob as the major league pace-setter, for no other hurler has yet posted No. 19. Feller's 19-4 record is the best in the American league percentage-wise, too.

For the tribe, it meant extending the team's longest winning string in more than a decade to 11 games and increasing the hold on first place to two and a half games.

"I ought to start in about 10 more," Feller said. "It would be pretty sad for me to have a chance, if I didn't win more than one of that number."

Sister Kenny Is Treating Herself

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 14 —(AP)—Sister Elizabeth Kenny, who won world fame helping others fight polio, developed today she is treating herself for a disease she deems incurable.

The English and Australian nurse told the Associated Press she preferred not to make public the name of her ailment but, she said, "It is nothing horrible, unsightly or infectious."

The white-haired woman, whose contrivances at the time of polio have gained her wide renown, said she knows she has not long to live, perhaps "a couple of years."

She smiled as she talked of it, but her movements were slow. She acknowledged that she often came pain. She said she has been for two years in the nature of a "cure."

These still appeared to be plenty of vigor, however, in the body of the woman who for years has helped to convince the world her understanding and methods of treating infantile paralysis are correct.

Sister Kenny said that through her self-treatment she had regained better use of her legs and hands than she had when she came back to Australia last February after 10 years in the United States.

She leaves Thursday by plane for a two-month visit to the United States, England and European countries to talk about polio and to listen to doctors — many of whom do not agree with her methods — tell of their findings in the treatment of the disease.

Asked if she would seek medical treatment in the U. S. or elsewhere during her journey, Sister Kenny said simply: "There is no cure."

She said she failed to understand why newspapers appeared more interested in writing about her health than about her famous treatment.

"After all," she said, "20 years ago four doctors gave me four months to live because of my heart. They all are dead except myself."

Allied Planes Rip Capital of N. Korea

U. S. 8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Aug. 14 —(AP)—Allied bombers and fighters struck the Red Korea capital of Pyongyang today in one of the heaviest air raids in weeks.

Major Gen. Frank F. Everest, Fifth Air Force commander, said the combined strike of superforts, jets and propeller-driven fighters was directed against the "professionally increasing" Communist strength in the Pyongyang area.

Other planes and warships hammered at supply routes readily used by the Reds to build up their forces during armistice negotiations.

U. S. Commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said the Reds are much more capable of attacking than they were five weeks ago. If they do attack Eighth Army troops will "welcome" them, said their commander, Gen. James A. Van Fleet. He said his troops are "set and ready."

U. N. troops seized a strategic hill north of Hwachon on the central front and warded off a small Red counterattack. To the East Allies were pushed back north-east of Kumhwa by a series of attacks of three grenade-throwing Red platoons. Elsewhere along the front Tuesday's action was reported to have been of minor activity.

Income Tax Plan May Hit Lower Bracket

Washington, Aug. 14 —(AP)—The tax-writing senate finance committee is studying eight or nine methods of raising individual income taxes, several of them involving a deeper bite in the lower earning brackets.

The committee arranged to meet again today in its rewriting job on the house-passed bill to hike taxes some $7,200,000,000 a year.

Many members have expressed dissatisfaction with the house formula to obtain $2,347,000,000 of additional revenue annually by higher personal income levies.

The 13 senators took up this problem first yesterday at their initial closed-door session to write another version of the measure.

One senator told a reporter experts from the treasury and the senate-house committee on taxation yesterday gave the committee figures on about eight methods of hiking individual income taxes other than the one used by the house.

The house adopted a plan of adding 12 1/2 per cent to the sum paid by each taxpayer under the present law.

Several senators contend this system would pyramid the increase in the middle and upper income brackets. They argue that lower brackets should be hit harder as an anti-inflationary measure because the great bulk of the spending is concentrated there.

One of the plans presented to the senators yesterday calls for adopting the treasury method of adding a fixed number of percentage points to the tax rate in each income bracket.

The treasury asked four four points, but the plan under study calls for three. There was reported to be considerable support for it in the committee.

As examples of the effect of the three-percentage plan, it would bring in $130 a year from a married man with two dependents who has $3,000 net income as compared with $135 in the house bill and $120 in the present law.

It would collect $598 a year from a married man with two dependents who has $5,000 net income as compared with $585 in the house bill and $520 in the present law. Net income is that subject to tax after deductions.

In the high brackets, the effect would be the opposite. The three-percentage plan would yield less there than the house bill.

For instance, a married man with two dependents and $30,000 net income would pay $20,312 under the plan as against $21,245 under the house bill and $18,884 under present law.

The plan would bring in an estimated $2,900,000,000 a year in

Eisenhower Perks Up Senators

Washington, Aug. 13 — (AP) — Senators generally were considerably perkier today by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's reported assertion that it is "ridiculous" to be overly frightened by Russia's military strength.

But Senator Hunt (D-Wyo.), a member of the armed services committee, told a reporter he hopes the North Atlantic defense commander's estimate of comparable free world and Iron Curtain strength doesn't "lull congress to sleep."

"I can agree with the general that the free world has a great preponderance of material intellectual, spiritual, technical and professional resources," Hunt said, "but I hope that doesn't lull us into a peaceful sleep we were enjoying before the Korean war started."

Eisenhower's views were in a subcommittee report prepared for the senate foreign relations and armed services committees. These groups are meeting jointly to consider the administration's $3,500,000,000 foreign aid bill.

The subcommittee, including nine members who visited Europe in July, reported that Eisenhower had said:

"The material, intellectual and spiritual resources available to the free world are so overwhelming as compared with what the Iron Curtain and satellite countries have that it is almost ridiculous for us to be talking in terms of fright and hysteria, which we often do." The report said Eisenhower acknowledged the Soviet bloc has a unity lacking by the North Atlantic treaty nations but said it was brought about "by a gun and a sword held forever behind a man's back ready to chop off his head."

To gain real unity, the senators said, Eisenhower told them the job is to convince every nation and man participating in Western Europe's defenses that "we are approaching this thing from the standpoint of enlightened self-interest."

There will be unity here every man believes what he is doing is good for him," Eisenhower was quoted as telling the committee during conferences at his Paris headquarters.

Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-NH), one of the touring group, said he agrees with Eisenhower's views on potential Western strength and believes the general's encouraging words will be reflected in a determination by the committee not to reduce materially the $3,500,000,000 in foreign military aid that would be authorized by the bill.

"I think our conferences with the general strengthen the feeling that we are justified in going ahead to try to equip the European divisions as fast as we can," Smith said.

Progress on Peace Parley Grows Dim

Munsan, Korea, Aug. 13 — (AP) — The chief Communist armistice negotiator said tonight Korean truce talks "will not make any progress" unless the United Nations changes its demands on where to create a buffer zone.

The statement from North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il was broadcast by the Red Pyongyang radio ten hours after he had again refused to change his own demands. "The Red position is so firmly fixed that in Monday's negotiation session Nam Il rejected a United Nations statement as 'not satisfactory' as soon as it was delivered."

And, a U. N. communique said, Nam Il made the rejection while speaking from a previously prepared and translated paper. "In the Pyongyang broadcast, Nam Il called on the U. N. delegation 'to change its attitude' and to take into consideration our demands," for a buffer zone, along the 38th parallel.

He said if the Kaesong truce negotiations are to "make any progress at all" U. N. delegates must "change their distorted demands they have made up to now." U. N. spokesmen have made it clear that the Allies will not consider a demarcation line on the 38th parallel. They saw the Reds must change their stand if negotiations are to progress.

No progress was made in today's one hour and 20 minute session—the 13th devoted to the same question.

Communist delegates again rejected every United Nations attempt to break the deadlock.

Opposing representatives could not even agree on where their armies are.

There next session, scheduled for 11 a.m. Tuesday at 8 p.m. Monday ET, will find them right back where they started.

A U. N. spokesman said the Red generals refused again Monday to side step the deadlock and talk about something else. They ignored a U. N. invitation to express their views on a demilitarized zone based on the present battle line. And they again insisted on a buffer zone along the 38th parallel.

The difference in view of present battle positions became apparent when Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. delegate, introduced a map comparing the Allied and Red concepts of the fighting front.

Brig. Gen. William P. Norriss, U. N. briefing officer, said they were in general agreement but there were some differences—

Compensation Is Given Student

Memphis, Aug. 14 — (AP) — A check for $10,000 was to be presented today to a 24-year-old Helena, Ark., woman who was injured in an accident while attending Boston university's graduate school.

Dr. Chester M. Alter, dean of the school, said here he would turn over the check for medical expenses to Maxine Miller, Negro at Helena.

The woman was paralyzed from the waist down in an elevator accident Dec. 10, 1947, in a girl's dormitory on the Boston campus.

Many Missing Americans May Be Alive

San Francisco, Aug. 14 — (AP) — Unofficial estimates indicated today that of the 10,634 Americans officially listed as missing in action in Korea, as many as 4,500 probably are being held in Communist war prisoner camps.

This figure comes from Allied military sources which cannot be named but which are in as good position as anyone on the Allied side to know the score of this bushy matter.

The prisoners are said to be confined near Kanggye, deep inside North Korea, about 20 miles from the Manchurian frontier.

Reliable information reaching Allied authorities said Chinese Red leaders do not want Allied prisoners transferred to Chinese soil. To do so would destroy the Communist contention that only Chinese "volunteers" are fighting in Korea.

The number of American and other U. N. prisoners never has been announced by the Reds. Allied sources estimate the total number at approximately 10,000.

The communist Peiping radio has carried over a period of months the names of approximately 1,000 Americans it has said were being held in Korea. The Red radio released the names a few at a time in propaganda broadcasts from January through early July. There have been numerous duplications.

Invariably the broadcasts, purporting to be messages written by the prisoners themselves, stressed that the men were being well treated. Most of the "messages" urged that foreign troops be withdrawn from Korea so the war could end.

Since the Kaesong military armistice conference opened July 10, and the question of troop withdrawals was deferred until a later conference at a higher level, the Red radio has made no further broadcasts of prisoner messages.

Allied authorities have said little about the treatment of prisoners for fear that a change remark might anger the Reds and make life harder for the prisoners.

Even men who have escaped from the Reds, or have been liberated, have been cautioned not to say anything that might react against their comrades.

However, a group of 13 marines who escaped last April on the central front confirmed that prisoners were fed the same food given medical attention, as Communist troops and were given medical attention.

Marine Maj. Andrew Geer of San Francisco, who conducted the freed marines back to the U. S. from Korea, said in an interview that the men reported they were well cared for, by Chinese standards.

The apparent purpose for this good care was to weaken the resistance of hard-fighting Allied troops and make them surrender more easily. If it became known that the communists were "easy" on their captives, the Reds reasoned that the enemy would not fight so hard to avoid capture.

Before releasing a group of men, the Communists require them to attend "school" eight hours a day for indoctrination course on communism.

All prisoners attend a school. Every third day they are given written tests on their studies.

Allied sources are reticent on the effectiveness of these courses. The technique of releasing indoctrinated prisoners is not new to the Chinese Red army. During the civil war against the Nationalists.

The Communists felt the policy paid off. One "indoctrinated" Nationalist soldier was thought capable of weakening the fighting spirit of 100 loyal Nationalists after he returned to Nationalist lines.

Use of the same tactic in the Korean war indicated the Reds now have added it to their list of standard battle tricks.

Ferry Crews Decide to Return

New York, Aug. 13 — "Sick" crewmen of Staten Island ferries decided today to return to work, promising relief for the milling thousands of commuters stranded at the waterside in their way to work.

Union committeemen said the crewmen, who had reported sick in a demand for more pay, would be back on their jobs by noon. The committee set noon Friday as a deadline for the city to meet its pay demands.

They had cut ferryboat service between Staten Island and Manhattan to one-third, was the first major labor dispute in the 45 years the city has operated the line.

Only two of the line's six ferries were in service to handle an estimated 30,000 commuters on the famed five-cent boat trip. Normally an additional 10,000 Staten Islanders make the trip daily for shopping or other purposes.

Thousands of islanders pulled about the ferry house as the morning rush hour got underway. The two ferries, carrying from 2,000 to 3,000 passengers each on the half-hour run to the skyscrapered battery, could handle about 9,000 commuters an hour.

"This is not a strike," said Peter Robinson, the local's first vice president. "The men are just sick — sick of the budget director given them the runaround."

Reds Set to Denounce Jap Peace Treaty

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Aug. 14 (AP) The Russians are coming to San Francisco Sept. 4 to fire some more anti-American propaganda, this time over the Japanese peace treaty which this country has taken the lead in working out.

On that date this country invited 30 of its wartime partners to the east city to discuss, agree on, and sign the treaty which is mainly the work of John Foster Dulles, Republican lawyer working for the state department.

Not every country is satisfied with all parts of the treaty which already has been distributed for examination and criticism in draft form. But the most strenuous objection has come from Russia.

Although the treaty has been in the works for a couple of years, it doesn't seem to have attracted much attention from, or discussion by, the American public.

Maybe that's because the war, now six years ended, seems far away, or Russia has become the big center of attention, or the public is just glad to get the loose ends of that war cleared up.

Or it may be the public feels the Japanese can be trusted now as an American ally in any trouble with Russia. And it's not that very point that Russia will have plenty to say.

Under the treaty, as proposed by the U. S., the Japanese will be able to return and the U. S. will be able, by agreement with the Japanese, to keep large military forces in Japan just in case of trouble with Russia.

Japan will become this country's strongest Pacific outpost. After looking at the proposed treaty, the Russians at first said they wouldn't take part in the San Francisco meeting at all. Yesterday they said they'd send a delegation.

Since the treaty points in dis-

UNCLE SAM'S BIGGEST—Here's one of the first pictures of the U. S. Army's new monster 73-ton tank, still in the experimental stage. Designated the T-30, it carries a crew of six, has a 155-mm. gun and an air-cooled, 810-hp engine capable of driving it 27 miles per hour. The tank is shown at New York City, where it will be part of an 18-car exhibition train at the U. S. Army's salute to the Erie Railroad's 100th anniversary.

pute between this country and Russia are so fundamental, it's impossible to believe the Russians will change their minds and sign or that this country will alter the treaty to please Russia.

So the only purpose for the Russian delegation in San Francisco must be to make more anti-American propaganda and perhaps try to line up some of the other 30 nations against the U. S.

The state department had hoped the treaty conference could be ended in a week. But now that Russia is coming it may drag on for many weeks, unless this country can find some way to make the Russians shut up.

In the end, after delaying, obstructing and propagandizing, the Russians seem sure to walk out. By that time the American public, and people elsewhere, will have been made more conscious of the treaty.

Andrei Gromyko, Russia's deputy foreign minister, will head the Soviet delegation. It was only last spring that the same Gromyko sent something of a record for propagandizing against the West.

Last fall Russia proposed that the foreign ministers of the U. S., Russia, France and England meet to settle the world's problems. There was some international hemming-and-hawing on this.

As usual, before the foreign

Football in College Is Defended

Little Rock, Aug. 14 (AP) — Big time college football has its fans, says the coach of the nation's No. 1 team of 1950, but it shouldn't be blamed for scholastic scandals and failures.

Bud Wilkinson of the University of Oklahoma, chief instructor at a coaching school here, had the floor last night in an impromptu roundtable on the criticism leveled at the game since the uncovering of the West Point cribbing scandal.

"Actually," said the Sooner grid boss, "football takes less time from classroom than any other college sport. You practice or play a couple of hours a day three months in the fall, part of that before school opens — and four weeks in the spring."

"Colleges exist for education, not for football. But football is important. It is a point of common interest among all the students. It brings the student body closer together and builds school pride and loyalty."

"We need to integrate athletics with the other departments of a college so that it will better fit into the overall program."

Fred C. Thomson, head coach at Southwest Missouri State (Springfield), expressed opinion that a mountain was being made of a molehill at West Point.

"Did you ever see a college where copies of every examination given for the past 30 years weren't available in every dormitory and fraternity house on the campus?" he asked. "I don't think these boys are cheaters."

Ivan H. Grove, athletic director at Hendrix college, Conway, Ark., for more than quarter of a century, said he thought academic leaders were too prone to blame interests other than themselves for scholastic troubles of a student.

"They too often pass the buck to the coaches and athletes when the pressure is on. If a professor is too lazy to make out new tests for the next day, the next month or semester, it's certain that someone is going to find out what some of the questions are and football isn't to blame."

Van Sickle Will Go to Kansas State

Manhattan, Kan., Aug. 13 (AP) — Approval of the board of regents is all that stands between Clyde Van Sickle, Arkansas football coach, and a new job as assistant football coach at Kansas State college.

Larry (Moon) Mullens, director of athletics for K-state, said Saturday that Van Sickle has been recommended for the job.

A graduate of the University of Arkansas, Van Sickle coached at Okmulgee, Okla., high school and Little Rock high school five years before joining the Razorback staff. He has been assistant manager at University of Arkansas for 10 years.

"Why Our Family owns 13 Dodge cars!"

"I was first in our large family to own a Dodge," says Frank Perrotti, Woodbridge, Conn. "But it didn't take long for the rest of the Perrotti family to follow suit. Yes, once they saw my Dodge, rode in it, compared it with the cars they were driving, they all began to swing over to Dodge. Today our family owns 13 Dodge cars and 11 Dodge trucks . . . and that's saying plenty for Dodge value and dependability."

You could pay up to $1,000 more and not get all the extra room, riding comfort and famous dependability of Dodge

Once you get a taste of Dodge roominess and comfort . . . once you see Dodge bigger dollar-for-dollar VALUE . . . your good judgment tells you that here is the car for you and your family!
